You are invited to attend the ACA Council on Occupational Health’s “Annual Chiropractic Occupational Health Symposium 2008”. Whether you treat one or one hundred patients with work-related injuries, you will acquire a wealth of information. Call today to register (952) 885-5446.

Join us Saturday at 5:45 PM for a reception (beer, wine and hors d’oeuvres) and awards presentation.

Who should attend this conference?
• Doctors interested in providing services to employers
• Doctors who have industrial clients already and want to learn how to maximize that relationship
• Doctors who see a future working directly with industry and business

Why attend?
• To meet and hear recognized speakers deliver cutting-edge information about occupational health
• Learn employers’ perspective about the business solutions they want for their safety and health programs
• Enhance your competency in chiropractic occupational health and applied ergonomics
• Gain a comprehensive understanding about writing professional proposals to employers
• To earn 12 CEUs for license renewal while also earning six CEUs toward the Chiropractic Occupational Health and Applied Ergonomics Diplomate program sponsored by NWHSU;
