Administrative History

The purpose of the library is to assure access to information in support of Northwestern Health Sciences University's mission to students, faculty, staff, healthcare providers, other libraries, and the community. The Greenawalt Library is named after Monte H. Greenawalt, DC, and his son, Kent S. Greenawalt, president of Foot Levelers, Inc., whose generous gifts have supported library improvements. The library moved to their current 16,000-square-foot location in February 2009. The library is part of the Twin Cities Biomedical Consortium (TCBC) and the Chiropractic Library Consortium (CLIBCON).

Scope and Content: Includes notes, meeting minutes, and handbooks on the Twin Cities Biomedical Consortium, NWCC/NWHSU, and library hiring committees.

Conditions Governing Access: Access to some materials may be restricted; contact the archives for more information.

Physical Access: Materials are housed in archival storage and may require advance notice for access. Older materials have sustained some damage and should be used with caution.

Conditions Governing Reproduction and Use: Copyright to these materials remains with the University. The reproduction, broadcast, display, public presentation, and other uses in any means or format of materials protected by copyright, beyond that which is allowed by fair use, requires written permission of the University. The user is responsible for ensuring permissions have been attained as necessary.
