NORTHWESTERN COLLEGE OF CHIROPRACTIC

2501 West Eighty-fourth Street
Bloomington, Minnesota 55431

Northwestern College of Chiropractic is devoted to the pursuit of excellence. From its Basic Science courses to advanced body organ systems, from Methods I to internships and preceptorships, the college is the first step in a long journey. This journey being the search for knowledge to which a Doctor of Chiropractic devotes their life.

We are the next generation of this science and art. We are the ones to help propel chiropractic securely into the forefront of health care. With conviction we look to the future. Within the pages of this book are the faces of the future of chiropractic.

PRESIDENT'S PAGE

Dr. John F. Allenburg

1994-95 has been another year during which our students have contributed in important ways to our College's continuous improvement, to helping strengthen the chiropractic profession and to creating a campus student life that provides necessary diversion from just learning and patient care. For all the extra service that makes "such a big difference" in student satisfaction, I am most grateful to our Student Senate, our Student American Chiropractic Association, the Student Minnesota Chiropractic Association, and the many student clubs which provide education, recreation, social functions and physical activity. Our organizations do well because they have good leadership and good member participation.

Special acknowledgement should also go to those who put together the student newspaper and the yearbook. Both are a lot of work, and they are done well.

This year the efforts of our students, faculty and the external profession were unusually effective in beginning to restore better accessibility for the public to their Doctors of Chiropractic — an accessibility which was being limited as managed care took hold.

The positive changes toward more equal access have come about because more legislators were learning about the effectiveness of chiropractic care, because research outcomes were supporting that effectiveness, because of a strong endorsement from a U.S. government agency and because, increasingly, the public insisted upon being able to receive chiropractic care through their health plans.

A report of historical significance was published in December 1994 by the Agency for Health Care Policy and Research, U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, entitled, "Acute Low Back Problems in Adults: Assessment and Treatment." It is reported that a substantial amount of research has confirmed that manipulation is the most effective physical treatment for acute low back pain. As David Chapman-Smith said during February Homecoming, "The world has a message — the efficacy of spinal manipulation is established." He also reminded everyone present of Northwestern's dominant role in outcome research.

At about the same time, a leading national organization which surveys public opinion published a report stating that, depending upon whether or not a person surveyed had any history of back difficulty, 71%-90% of the people want chiropractic in their basic health package, and 62%-83% want direct access to their Doctors of Chiropractic.

So, while we remained nervous about the ultimate impact of health care reform, our profession advanced dramatically during 1994-95 in stature and credibility. This will translate into a higher percentage of people seeking and benefiting from chiropractic care for their health — and that will fulfill part of our purpose.

IT TAKES MORE THAN A GOOD DIET TO ACHIEVE GOOD HEALTH.

An alarming trend has developed in the last two decades; people may not be adequately nourished by the average American diet. After analyzing over 15,000 people, one study reported that "84% of the subjects are consuming sub-optimal diets with regard to one or more of the 17 nutrients evaluated." As a health care professional, you'll want to help your patients supplement their diets.

NUTRITION DYNAMICS distributes the finest food supplements available (Metagenics, Progressive Labs, DNA Labs). And we're here to help you implement nutritional strategies by offering:

Minimum cost workshops featuring experts in the field of nutrition • Scientific documentation and in-house assays to assure product quality • Professional literature designed to help you educate your patients • Continuous support in implementing nutritional protocols for your patients
